Mass Meeting Civilian Defense and Hancock Chapter Red Cross

To Be Held At Bay High School Auditorium at Eight O'Clock Monday Night—Parade To Be Held Monday Afternoon—To Start At Bay High School At 2 O'Clock P. M.

On Monday afternoon a meeting of the executive committee of the Civilian Defense Volunteer Office and the Hancock Chapter of the American Red Cross was held in the Civilian Defense office in the Courthouse.

The main purpose of the meeting was to complete plans for a joint mass meeting and parade of the Red Cross and Civilian Defense which will take place on next Monday afternoon, March 22nd.

The parade will form and begin from the Bay High School promptly at two o'clock on Monday afternoon and will proceed through the main streets of the city. Members of all organizations, are invited to march in the parade, which will be headed by The Merchant Marine Band, the Bay High Band and the St. Stanislaus Band. Also participating in the parade will be detachments from the military and marine stations in the vicinity of Bay St. Louis.

Plans and arrangements for a mass meeting to be held on Monday evening at 8 o'clock at Bay High School were also discussed and on the program will be such speakers as Mr. Joseph O. Mauffray, Chairman of the Hancock County War Bond Committee, Mr. Lucien M. Gex, Chairman of the War Fund Drive of the American Red Cross, Mr. A. E. Cox, Chief Air Raid Warden, of the Civilian Defense Office, and Mr. Louis W. Link, Red Cross Field Director from Keesler Field, who will give first hand information on the value of the services of Red Cross to our troops on battle fronts all over the globe. Mrs. C. C. McDonald will make several announcements of importance. Brother Linus of St. Stanislaus College will speak on the service rendered by the Air Plane Spotters Station conducted by the boys of St. Stanislaus College.

The public is urged to attend the night meeting which will be of interest to everyone as the Office of Civilian Defense is continuing to give valuable aid to the War Effort, its Block System and Messenger Service serving admirably wherever the necessity arises, and the work of the American Red Cross ever growing in scope and rendering great aid to the men on the battle fronts and to their families back home.

Mrs. George di Benedetto and Miss Mary diBenedetto who left a week ago for Norfolk, Virginia, to visit Mr. George diBenedetto found upon their arrival in Norfolk that Mr. diBenedetto had been transferred to a naval station in Philadelphia the day of their arrival, so they continued on and are presently in Philadelphia.

AIR RAID WARNING TOWER CLERMONT HARBOR

Mr. H. T. Carr constructed the air raid warning tower pictured above. This tower is located on Mr. Carr's property at Clermont Harbor where he is the Chief of the Air Raid Warning Service.

Mr. Carr is one of the most progressive citizens in this section of the country. He is never too busy when called upon to take part in any matters of civic or patriotic interest. He is always at the beck and call of those who need his assistance. He should be complimented for the interest he has shown in the air raid warning service, having gone to the trouble of building this tower which is both of service and an ornament to the country.

surgical dressings produced; 6,500-000 relief garments made; 20,000,000 overseas war sufferers helped.

The national quota is $125,000,000 and this county's is $5700.

Remember that $3700 remains in the local treasury. What does this mean to you. It helps win the war on the home front.

This appeal comes to you indirectly from the Hancock County service men and you can't turn a deaf ear to them.

Join in the parade on March 22 at 2 p. m. and help the cause. Be sure to attend the Mass meeting to be held jointly with the Civilian Defense Council and hear what the Army Red Cross Director, Mr. Link and his assistant Mr. Colhoun has to tell you.

Mrs. W. L. Bourgeois is asking for used magazines for the boys passing through on troop trains. Mrs. Bourgeois has been taking these to the trains and she says the boys are loud in the expressions of appreciation of these magazines. Recently the boys said they had been on the train for five days and they were very glad to have the reading matter.

COUNTY SUPT. OF EDUCATION RETURNS FROM MEETING AT JACKSON

Resolutions Asking For Special Session Legislature To Increase Teachers Pay Adopted

Returning from a meeting of the Mississippi Educational Association held in Jackson on March 11th and 12th, County Superintendent of Education McCarty states that one of the major problems discussed was the endeavor to increase teachers' salaries and for this purpose, the Association went on record as favoring a special session of the Mississippi Legislature to consider means for financing an increase in teachers' salaries throughout the state.

Mr. McCarty is urging all school organizations, business men and officers of organizations to write Governor Johnson and our legislators requesting the special session for school relief and voicing their opposition to the introduction of political resolutions.

At the meeting, it was disclosed that the average salary of the white classroom teacher in Mississippi is $12.05 a week based on a fifty-two week year, and less in Hancock County because of the smaller population and lower revenues. It was stated further that with a surplus of more than $13,000,000 in our State Treasury, it seems reasonable to assume that the state in this time of great emergency might contribute more than 7 pennies and a 5 mill token per day to the support of each child in school.

In conclusion, the Association pledged the resources and personnel of the organization to assist in every way possible in reaching the right solution to this most important problem, and officers of P. T. A. organizations are urgently requested to lend their aid also.

MISSION STARTS MARCH 21

Continues Through March 28th at Our Lady of the Gulf Church

Beginning Sunday morning March 21st, there will be a mission at Our Lady of the Gulf Church under the direction of the Right Reverend Peter Wynhoven, Pastor of Our Lady of Lourdes Church, New Orleans.

Monsignor Wynhoven is widely known throughout this section of the country and is the founder of Hope Haven, home for boys at Marrero, Louisiana. He is also Editor-in-Chief of Catholic Action of the South, the official newspaper of the Archdiocese of New Orleans, the Diocese of Alexandria, La., the Diocese of Lafayette, La., and the Diocese of Natchez, Miss.

Monsignor Wynhoven will preach at all the masses on Sunday, March 21st and throughout the week.

Sermons will be preached following each of the morning masses and at night services at 7:30 P. M.

The subjects of Monsignor Wynhoven's sermons will be on Sunday, "A Mistaken Notion"; on Monday, "Triflers," on Tuesday "Foolish Spenders," on Wednesday "An Unholy Mess," on Thursday, "God Is Not a Fool," on Friday, "Jesus Understands," on Saturday, "Cherchez la Femme," on Sunday "The Pass Word." On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday special subjects will be preached for the children and on Thursday morning, there will be a general communion for all the children in the parish.

It has been some time since we have had a mission in Bay St. Louis and we feel that no more logical time could have been selected by the Pastor to have a mission conducted than at this time. Today of all times people are getting nearer to their God, praying and hoping for the safety of their loved ones and asking God to give us a victory, and a just peace.

The night services will be for the men and women of the parish and non-catholics as well as Catholics are invited to attend these services and all may rest assured that they will hear a splendid discourse on the subjects enumerated above by one of the best preachers of the Catholic Church in the South.

BUD'S LETTER

Dear Red:

I sure been feeling bad the last few days, (feeling fine now tho.) That brother-in-law of mine was the cause of it all too—however, he was right and I was wrong as usual.

Like I told you, my wife finally got me a job in a defense plant (the job isn't much but it pays pretty good), but I wasn't interested in it very much. Of course, I work enough to keep in cigarettes and coca-cola and enough flour and meal to get by on, but I was pretty bad about laying off and resting (if you never saw me really resting you have missed something.) My wife tried to get me to work regularly so I wouldn't lose my job, but it just like I say—the factories need workers too badly to let me to work more than 4 or 5 days anyhow, because he knew I was very enthusiastic about our war effort (I never did think he liked me very much).

Well, one morning last week that brother of my wife's came by the house (he works a night shift and is pretty conscientious) and I was sitting in my easy chair just resting. He saw me and asked the little woman what was wrong. She tells him I always law off every Tuesday and Thursday to rest. Now Red, I can't repeat all he said, but I'll tell you part of it—he says to me he says (in a rough tone too), you're a slacker, you are unpatriotic, you don't deserve to live in the U. S. Why Red, he just goes so far as to tell me I ain't no good. He says I am disrupting my whole part of the plant, and maybe what I could have turned out would have saved Wilson from death (a young man whom my family dearly loved, killed in a plane crash in the Solomons). They made me so mad and got in behind me so hot till I just got up and walked out.

Well I go up town and everybody is busy, so there is nothing for me to do but go to the factory. I'm several hours late, but I amble in and look around. The man that works in front of me is in my place, everybody up ahead is moved back one notch. The machines were running about half speed, and the report to the foreman and asks him: what's the matter. Then he explains to me how this other fellow didn't know my work and how the line I worked on was turning out about one-fourth of its capacity. Well, I tells him what happened and that I'm not going to Blood donors are urgently needed for the forthcoming blood bank which will be conducted at the Kings Daughters Hospital as soon as enough donors register. Won't you please register and give your pint of blood which may save one of your own boys' lives on a battle front?

Mrs. Constance Kimberling, Home Service representative of the American Red Cross for the Eastern Area, visited the Hancock Chapter of the American Red Cross and conferred with Mrs. Louis Maumus, Executive Secretary, and heads of committees of the local chapter.

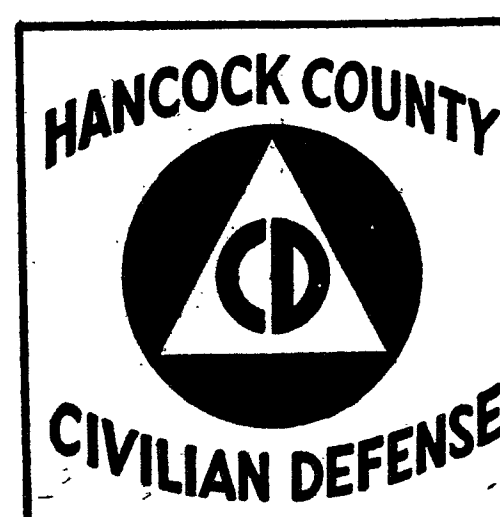

The Hancock Chapter of the American Red Cross wishes to thank the Bay St. Louis people for the splendid response to its appeal for workers in the Surgical Dressing Department night classes held on each Tuesday and Thursday evening. Thousands of dressings have been completed and there is every indication that with the continued interest and hard work the quota of 30,000 surgical dressings will be completed by April 1st. If you have not assisted with surgical dressings, won't you please come and help out?

The Production Room in the Knights of Columbus Hall on Main Street which is open daily has received a large quota of men's shirts and volunteers who are willing to sew in order to complete this quota are needed.

An interesting speaker scheduled on the program of the joint mass meeting of the American Red Cross and Civilian Defense on next Monday night at Bay High School will be Mr. Louis W. Link, Red Cross Field Director stationed at Keesler Field since its beginning who will give first hand information on the services rendered by Red Cross to service men in camp. Accompanying Mr. Link from Biloxi will be Assistant Field Director William Colhoun who is also stationed at Keesler Field.

COMMISSIONED

Rev. A. M. Ellison, former pastor First Methodist Church has been commissioned First Lieutenant, U. S. Army where he will serve as a chaplain. At the completion of his training at Harvard University he will be assigned to his post. Mr. Ellison's many friends here are glad to learn of his commission and are wishing him well in his new work. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Ellison, Sr., of 1503 North West Street, Jackson. He is a graduate of Millsaps College and attended Tulane University. Before entering the ministry he was on the staff of the Jackson Daily News and the Times-Picayune.

All interest this week in the Volunteer Office of Civilian Defense has been centered on plans and preparations for the joint parade and mass meeting of the Civilian Defense and Red Cross to be held on Monday, March 22nd.

Mrs. Roger Boh, Chief Block Leader, states she is receiving splendid cooperation from her Block Leaders and also from the teachers and student body of the Waveland Public School whenever they are called upon.

The following ladies are serving as Block Leaders: Mrs. Marguerite Backman, Mrs. Horace Kergosien, Mrs. Lucien M. Gex, Mrs. J. Townsend Wolfe, Mrs. L. S. Elliott, Mrs. J. R. Rollins, Mrs. Leo Tacopi, Mrs. Charles Flink, Mrs. Harry Glover, Mrs. Andrew Carver, Mrs. Henry Carver and Mrs. Eugene Mogabgab.

lay off any more. Then the foreman shakes my hand and puts me back on the line. You should have seen those machines pick up speed, and I feel that belt so fast it got hot. The next morning the foreman even spoke to me, and Red, I just felt good all over. I decided right then I never would lay off again. Even if my job isn't so important, it's a necessary part of our work. The only thing that hurts me now is that my brother-in-law had to put me straight.

THE RED CROSS

MARCH is the month for the Red Cross Drive. We are now in the midst of their annual appeal for financial assistance. This year owing to war conditions, the need of funds is more acute than ever before. To meet this emergency the Red Cross Organization has set as its goal the sum of $125,000,000 or approximately one dollar per capita in the country.

We need have no qualms or doubts in giving freely to the Red Cross as it is one of the finest organizations of its kind anywhere in the world. The Red Cross is universal. Since its inception it has done all in its power to relieve human misery. Whenever and wherever disaster strikes, it is always on hand to cope with the situation. Floods, fires, tornados and wars have always resulted in bringing the Red Cross to the front. The instances in which it has averted further disaster are legion. Even now the only hope for the survival of millions of enslaved peoples groaning under the conquerer's heel is the success of this Red Cross Drive. Unless they can obtain the necessary foodstuffs to feed these people the untold suffering and tragedy in Europe will be beyond human imagination.

It is through the mediation of the Red Cross that some food and other necessities are allowed to reach our own servicemen behind barbed wire entanglements in Japanese prison camps. This has also been the only means of our obtaining knowledge of the whereabouts of many of our boys.

When we realize how little we have been affected by the war and the terrible scourge it has wrought elsewhere, we would not be human if we did not dig down deep into our pockets in order to swell the coffers of the Red Cross. In this way, we will make it possible for this wonderful organization to continue its charitable work of alleviating the suffering of our less fortunate brethren throughout the world.—Jerome Fortenberry in Saint Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaw, Mar. 12, 1943.

PEACE IN THE INTEREST OF ALL

THE idea that the United States must consult its Allies at this time and secure agreements about post-war developments is based upon the delusion that such commitments will be sufficient to preserve peace.

The sooner we understand that the peace of the world can be safe only when it is to the interest of the nations of the earth to preserve it, the quicker we will be blessed with peace.

No nation, in its right mind, is going to continue indefinitely to support any agreement that works against the self-interest of the nation. This rule applies to our Allies as well as to our enemies.

All that we can hope for is that the Allied Nations, after winning a great victory, will be wise enough to understand that their self-interest has a long-range, as well as a short-range, view.

This long-range viewpoint emphasizes the gains which will come to all peoples through the establishment of peace. It even leads them to understand that temporary disadvantage may bring future advantages.

The observation has point in relation to the United States. We have never been reluctant to establish nationalistic policies, regardless of their effect upon other nations.

It might be wise for us to carefully consider the long-range effect of certain selfish policies. If they produce another world war neither the people of the United States nor the Government itself will gain anything from a short-range viewpoint that is clouded and obscured by selfishness.

SAYS IT WON'T TAKE LONG

BRIG. Gen. Claire L. Chennault, who has been in command of American fliers operating in China, reports that the Japanese air force has "hit its peak and is now on the down grade." The general ought to know. He has been in China a long time, in connection with the Flying Tigers and as our commander since Pearl Harbor.

Gen. Chennault does not share Ambassador Grew's fears about a war to the last Jap. He says that when Hitler is crushed it won't "take long" to smash Japan.

Not only is this air officer a fighting man but he understands his part in the great war now engaging this nation. You do not hear him asking, via the public prints, for additional planes, although we are sure he would like to have them.

Gen. Chennault says: "It's not for me to decide global strategy. I'll fight on with what planes we have until conditions permit larger reinforcements." This is a soldierly attitude, expressed by a man who has been exceptionally successful in actual operations.

If the war lasts long enough, you will hear more about Gen. Chennault.

Hancock County should respond one hundred percent to the Red Cross War Relief Fund. Every man and woman should appreciate the wonderful contribution this great organization is making all over the world at this time.

Soreheads and sapheads are not the same but they are equally tiresome.

There are people in the world who judge every individual by the size of his bank account.

You can travel thousands of miles without finding better people than those who live next door to you.

Unselfish service is about the best contribution that a man can make to his day and generation.

The individual who attempts to reform the entire human race has an exaggerated opinion of his, or her, ability.

IMMORTAL SERGEANT AT A. & G. THEATER SUNDAY-MONDAY

Is Story of Libyan Battle

From all the far-flung fields of battle, there has come no more stirring story than the heroic epic of Libya. Appropriately enough 20th Century Fox's picture story of John Brophy's "Immortal Sergeant," which will open Sunday at the A. & G. Theater is one of the finest films turned out on the war.

Starring Henry Fonda and Maureen O'Hara, "Immortal Sergeant," is that rare cinematic gem—a picture whose authenticity and execution matches its magnitude of theme. The timeliness of the film—focussed on the crucial battle fields of North Africa—coupled with its romantic appeal, puts it on a high plane.

"Immortal Sergeant" is the inspiring story of an indomitable band of fighters who conquer the enemy and the elements. Their leader is the sergeant of the title, but it is the inner battle of the corporal which gives the film its key. Portrayal by Fonda, the corporal "finds" himself amid the inferno of battle on the Libyan sands and emerges as an inspired leader when the death of the sergeant forces him to assume leadership of the patrol.

This is not meant to convey, however, that the film deals exclusively with the battle front. For in every story of a soldier there must be some indication of what he's thinking about—in "Immortal Sergeant" Fonda's thoughts quite naturally turn to home and his sweetheart, Maureen O'Hara. By an ingenious use of the "flash-back" device, the film gives a definiteness and a body to those thoughts—and show conclusively why this fighter for freedom can never give up the battle.

The film was written and produced by Lamar Trotti from John Brophy's novel. John Stahl directed.

The Town Parade

By Chesterfield Skinner

Hal! hal! the Old Boys are coming into their own again. I noticed for the first time, today, on the street, a sweet little thing in shorts. This is a sure sign that the robins, ducks and geese have gone back North and that the last cold snap has paid its visit.

I doubt, if the annual Easter Parade, in shorts and shorters, will be as spectacular in the Bay this season as it usually is because these young folk will find trouble in getting accommodations, as most places are pretty well filled up with more permanent guests. However, to youth, it is more or less of a lark and a place to sleep, is a minor requirement.

It is not the purpose or intention of the conductor of this column to hurt the feelings of anyone. We want to cause people to rejoice in the fact that they are living in the garden spot of the world, and to call to their attention the small things in life that they may have overlooked. We want to, if possible, cause them to become better acquainted with their neighbor, cultivate more outward ways of expressing their love and esteem for their fellowman. My philosophy, compels me to reassert that one good big hug, for your countryman, will give you more pleasure than a dozen kicks in the pants, even if you are a better man physically. Likewise, this is true in the art of giving. It is not so much WHAT you give that counts, as it is WHEN you give. I do not mean this only in the way of giving monetary things. It is the little pat on the back, a cheerful word, or a kind deed at the proper moment without cost or expense to you, that are the gifts that are remembered. Of course if you go around bragging about what you have done for so-and-so, you unconsciously kill the effect. GIVE as you PRAY,—in silence!

This little weekly sermon brings me to the point, that, from the comment that I have heard on the streets the past week, I did not live up to my preachings, and nothing cleanses the soul like a public apology. I will admit that I said things about the person who was chosen for the King of the Carnival, that I should not have said and with reservations, I humbly beg His Honor's Pardon. One point, however, I will not back down on and that is the statement I made that he is ugly. I will not force the issue, that he is, or not, a sorcerer, and all the other things. I maintain, that he is just downright homely and hereby challenge him to enter against me in a "Good Looks Contest," the judges to be The Queen of the Carnival Ball, the Princess, all of the Maids (and that it may have an official touch, which will tend to curb a re-occurrence of this great question) the Sheriff and the Editors of the two local weekly papers. I will abide by the decision of this group and it is now up to this self styled King to name the place and the date. Instead of him calling my hand, I expect something from him about like this:

He fought and fit and wriggled and squirmed, To prove to the public that he wasn't a worm. But, I have his number and expect him to say,— "Lay off me Chesterfield, that's no way to play."

ORTTE THEATER PRESENTS "SEVEN SWEETHEARTS"

A Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer
Super Special

Seven of the screen's prettiest and most promising starlets grace the gaging "Seven Sweethearts" which will open Sunday at Ortte Theater.

Kathryn Grayson as Billie, one of seven lovely daughters who open a hotel for their eccentric Dutch father, is appealing. Her dramatic voice is heard in two numbers written especially for the picture: "Little Tingle-Tangle Toe" and "You and the Waltz and I."

Van Hefflin in the role of Henry, brash newspaperman covering a tulip festival in the quaint Dutch village of Little Delft, Michigan, brings another of his vigorous characterizations to the screen. In contrast to his part in "Johnny Eager," Hefflin plays Henry with gaiety and charm and his love scenes with Kathryn Grayson are remarkably tender.

Marsha Hunt, portraying the eldest daughter Regina, a spoiled and stage-struck beauty who tricks Henry into a false elopement, handles her role convincingly.

Cecilia Parker, Frances Ræburn, Dorothy Morris, Frances Rafferty and Peggy Moran, the five remaining sisters, bring freshness and vitality to a piquant story.

The able supporting cast includes S. Z. Sakall, Isobel Elsom, Diana Lewis, Lewis Howard, Carl Esmond and Louise Beavers.

Joseph Pasternak, making his first production for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, offers a film that can easily take its place beside Pasternak's previous successes.

Arthur Cahill, 47, Dies At New Orleans

Mr. Cahill was the brother of Mrs. Chester Swanner and Mrs. Raymond Talbot of Bay St. Louis and of Mrs. W. J. Waddell of Waveland, Mississippi. He was the son of the late Simon and Mary Ann Battle Cahill of New Orleans and leaves also two brothers Alfred and Simon J. Cahill of New Orleans.

Funeral services were held in that city on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The Echo extends sympathy to his family here in their loss.

FOR YOUR SECURITY

A HOUSE IN ORDER

When personal budgets don't balance, there results a telling setback to future financial plans. Just as you must keep your house in order, so must the bank that you may live and work free from economic worries. It is the same principle on a slightly larger scale.

We at the Merchants Bank & Trust Company realize that this nation faces severe post-war readjustments. For that reason we re-affirm our pledge of A House in Order: Maintenance of the quality of our assets, protection of our resources, and the practice of our doctrine to WORK and SAVE.

From where I sit...

by Joe Marsh

Coming on a little village near here I saw one of the prettiest public gardens you ever saw. As a passer-by explained it to me:

"When anybody has any extra flower seeds they scatter 'em in this plot—and when anybody sees any weeds in the garden, they help to pull 'em out."

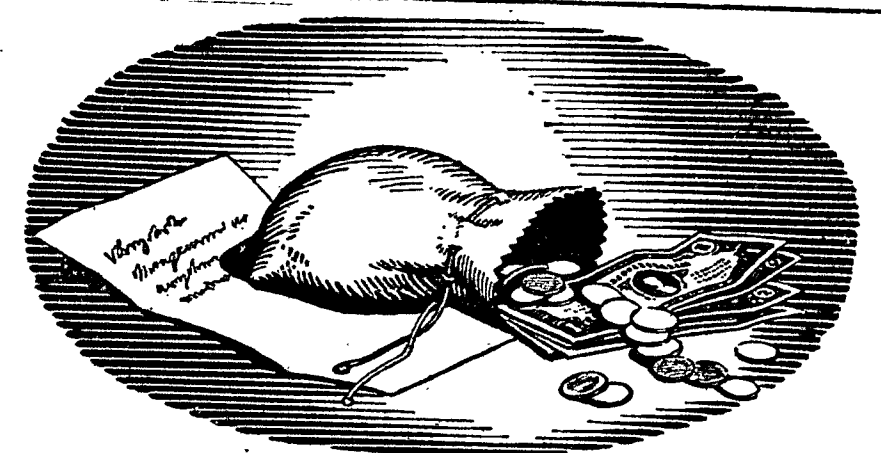

Now there's a mighty fine example of how cooperation works. But there are plenty of others too.

For instance the way the brewers and beer distributors are cooperating so with the authorities to see that beer is sold only in clean, decent places. From where I sit, it looks like a mighty practical example of how honest cooperation works out to everyone's benefit—the brewers, the beer retailers, and we plain citizens that like our gardens and our pleasures—with the weeds kept out.

Seed Money

There's only one thing more foolish than killing the goose that lays the golden eggs. That's living up the money that has been put away to buy the seed for next year's crops.

Although G-E turbines and lamps and refrigerators don't grow from any seed you can buy at a seed store, yet any manufacturer—no matter what he makes—has a seed problem just the same. For next year's models, and improved designs, and new products—all these cost money. Money for research, and engineering, and new tools, and advertising to tell the public where a product can be obtained, and how much it will cost.

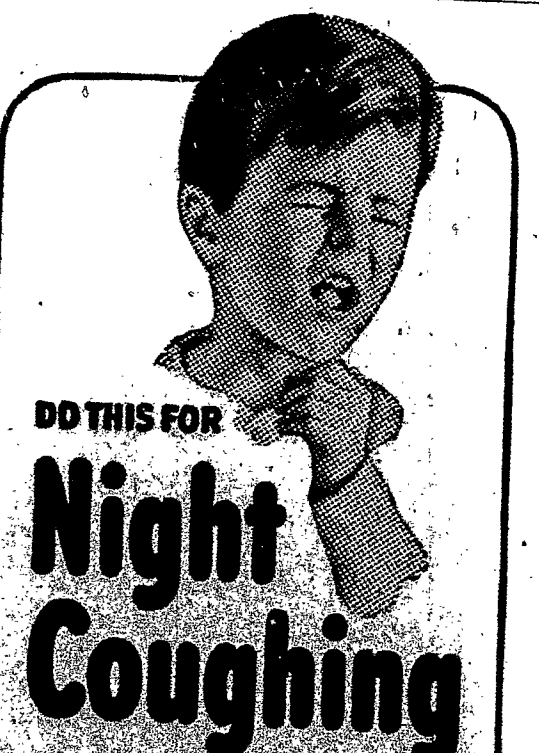

And the only place this money can come from is out of past earnings, or borrowing on the promise of earnings in the future. In other words—from seed money.

From the seed of research and engineering, planted in years past by General Electric, have come some pretty amazing crops. Incandescent lamps five times as efficient as Edison's, vacuum tubes that made radiobroadcasting possible, refrigerators for the home and electric machines for industry to make important jobs easier.

Right now the crops we're growing are all of the "Victory Garden" kind—weapons that are serving with our armed forces on land and sea and in the air.

But we mustn't neglect the seed money for the future. We're looking forward to the continuance of the industrial system that will allow us to open up and cultivate other new and promising fields. So, tomorrow, look for important developments in television, fluorescent lighting, plastics, electronics. These will be familiar words in the post-war world. GENERAL ELECTRIC COMPANY, SCHENECTADY, N. # The BARNYARD BRIGADE

MARCHES TO VICTORY!

THE 1943 POULTRY PRODUCTION JOB IS AN ESSENTIAL WAR ACTIVITY

The barnyard brigades on six million American farms and in a lot of town and city back yards are supporting American soldiers and sailors in their march to victory. American hens are producing billions of eggs to help feed our fighting forces.

America's poultry producers face an unprecedented production job. They are asked to undertake an unparalleled war-time task. But no undertaking is too big or too difficult for our farmers when it means feeding our soldiers. Our fighting men must have plenty of good food to stay in the fight. More eggs must be produced to feed our soldiers, sailors, marines and our allies.

Eggs pack a lot of pep. Eggs are highly nutritious. Concentrated dried eggs require the minimum of shipping space and keep almost indefinitely. More eggs are also needed for our civilian population.

5 BILLION DOZEN EGGS

Five billion dozen eggs! Four billion pounds of chicken meat! Five hundred sixty million pounds of turkeys! It is difficult for the human mind to conceive of the many eggs and that many pounds of chickens. But that is the 1943 national poultry goal. It's a big production job! But farmers and farm women can reach the egg and poultry goal. The U. S. Department of Agriculture reports that there is now an all-time record number of hens and pullets on farms. Extension poultry specialists and county extension agents say producers can step up poultry and egg production overnight. They can brood more chickens. They can feed and manage their flocks for higher production. Then can practice better sanitation. They can cut down poultry losses. They can send poor layers to the market and replace them with productive pullets.

MISSISSIPPI'S 1943 POULTRY GOALS

are 51,741,000 dozen eggs and 18,403,000 pounds of chickens for meat. All farm families who are in a position to do so are asked to consider brooding more chickens, increasing the size of their flocks, practicing better feeding, and otherwise doing whatever is necessary to obtain maximum poultry production. Necessary information on poultry production is available to producers through county extension agents.

Hancock County's 1943 Poultry Goals are 136,000 dozen eggs and 43,000 pounds of chickens for meat. Let us help you put your "Barnyard Brigade" in the March to Victory!

RANDOLPH W. SEAL
County War Board Chairman.

C. C. STONE
County Agent.

HELPFUL POULTRY SUGGESTIONS

To the many producers who will be buying and brooding chicks and raising pullets the Extension Service offers these suggestions:

- Secure healthy, vigorous, disease-free chicks from healthy flocks or reputable hatchery.
- Put chicks in clean brooder houses. Keep brooder houses clean.
- When chicks are ready to move from brooder houses put them on clean ground.
- Feed growing mash and provide succulent green feed.
- Feed laying hens for full production.
- Gather eggs at least twice a day.
- Market eggs at least twice a week.

The Mississippi Extension Service has organized egg marketing programs which are being extended to new areas. The Food Distribution Administration has recently announced an egg buying program. Poultry growers are urged to cooperate in setting up marketing organizations to facilitate the transportation, assembling, grading, packing, storing, and selling eggs. Cooperation of growers is necessary if losses are to be eliminated and satisfactory markets provided.

THIS MESSAGE FEATURING ESSENTIAL POULTRY PRODUCTION IS PUBLISHED IN THE INTEREST OF FOOD FOR FREEDOM

MARRIED RECENTLY IN BATON ROUGE, LA.

LT. AND MRS. J. R. ARMSTRONG

One of the lovely weddings was that of Miss Mae Campbell to Lieut. Joseph R. Armstrong which was solemnized Saturday evening, February 20, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Alexander Campbell, on Jefferson Davis avenue in Fairfields.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Charles Campbell, wore a lovely gown of all-over lace, fashioned with a tight-fitting bodice and full skirt ending in a long train. She carried a bouquet of white split carnations centered with an orchid. The finger-tip veil of illusion was held in place by a cluster of orange blossoms.

The only attendant to the bride was her sister, Mrs. A. R. Mitchell, who wore a gown of white tulle and lace and carried a bouquet of pink roses tied with blue tulle ribbon.

Lt. Armstrong had as his best man his brother-in-law, Mr. J. C. Cox.

Preceding the entrance of the bride party, Mrs. Raymond Daigle played "I Love You Truly." The "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin" was used for the recessional.

Vows were said before an improvised altar in the living room formed of palms, candelabras and baskets filled with white gladioli and snapdragons.

Following the ceremony, the bride party and guests retired to the dining room, which was prettily decorated with bouquets of spring flowers and clusters of lighted candles. The bride's table was covered with a lace cloth and held lighted candles in crystal holders. In the center was a three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature soldier groom of cream and bride. Punch was served to the guests by Misses Jennie Louise Grand, Shirley Bagley, Mrs. Jack Ohlmscheid and Mrs. W. P. Burden Jr., from a serving table in the corner of the room.

Mrs. Campbell wore an aqua dress of crepe and was assisted in receiving by Mrs. T. W. Armstrong, mother of the groom, who wore a navy blue suit with white trimmings, and both wore pink carnation shoulder corsages.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Alexander Campbell and the late Alexander Campbell former residents of Logtown. She is a direct descendant of an old Scotch family who lived at Campbell's Island near what is now Dunbar. There they lived a quiet life but grew in knowledge daily. They had their own Sunday School and Sunday services and their home had a charm about it which lingered with one long after a visit to this interesting family.

She is a graduate of Gulf Park College.

Lt. Armstrong is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Armstrong and is a graduate of St. Xavier's university in Cincinnati, Ohio. He was formerly connected with a Baton Rouge finance company before receiving his commission in the Army Air Corps. He is a nephew of Miss Louise Armstrong of Bay St. Louis and Mrs. Marie Weber of Waveland and has visited here frequently.

For traveling, the bride wore a fur-trimmed spring suit of yellow wool, with a matching hat, brown accessories, and an orchid corsage. After a brief trip over the week-end the couple left for Shreveport, where Lt. Armstrong is stationed at Barksdale Field.

—Mr. and Mrs. Peter Pravata and children of Slidell, Louisiana, spent Sunday here as guests of Mr. Pravata's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Scafide.

—Mrs. Joseph Gilbert, Sr., has returned from a week's visit in New Orleans with her son, Mr. Joseph Gilbert and daughter, Mrs. John Tooley.

—Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Robbins left Wednesday morning for Memphis, Tenn., where Mr. Robbins will consult an eye specialist. They will be absent several days.

—Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Stevens have arrived in Bay St. Louis to reside and are at the home of Mrs. Stevens' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Heitzmann, Sr., on Sycamore street.

—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vardin and daughters, Helen and Dolly, were the guests of Mrs. C. Webster and Miss Rita Nunez on last Sunday, motoring here from New Orleans for the day.

—Mrs. S. Allen Borden and her daughter, Mrs. E. S. David, the former Miss Carmen Borden, are guests here of Mrs. Borden's sisters the Misses E. and M. Sportono and her brother L. N. C. Sportono.

—E. H. Thomas is here from Canada on a visit to his daughter-in-law Mrs. Catherine Thomas and his grandchildren A. J., Thelma and Bill Thomas. He is registered at Hotel Reed.

—Bay St. Louis lost two very nice citizens last week when Mr. William Strieff entered service and Mrs. Strieff is away. The handsome Strieff residence was sold to Mr. T. J. Chpin of this city.

—Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Favre on last Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. George Demarest and little son, George, Jr., of New Orleans and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lucas of New York.

—Mr. and Mrs. Max Kohler had their entire family group with them last week end when Mr. and Mrs. Claude Kohler and little daughter, Lynn, and Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Kohler were over for the week end.

—Mr. Leo Murtagh, former resident who now lives in Port Allen, Louisiana, is spending two weeks in Bay St. Louis attending to business and visiting with his daughter, Miss Emily Clare Murtagh, and members of the Schiele family.

—Mrs. Florence Mitchell has recovered from her recent spell of illness and has resumed her post at the High School cafeteria. While ill she had with her her daughter, Miss Bessie Mitchell, Mrs. Mitchell and Miss Mitchell had as their guest Lieutenant Clayton Allen, U. S. Navy, of New Orleans.
